Community Involvement

Community involvement is at the heart of what we do. All Scotian Wind projects seek to involve the local community in both the development process, and in sharing the benefits once operational. There is a lot to gain from working together.

Community Participation

In order to bring in feedback and guidance from the local residents, Scotian Wind establishes Community Liaison Committee's (CLC) from people who live in the surrounding area to our projects. The purpose of the CLCs is to ensure a healthy, two-way -flow of communication between Scotian Wind and the community. Scotian Wind provides the CLCs with timely and accurate information about project plans and activities. CLC members serve as a sounding board for the project, providing a representative cross-section of community views, concerns, and ideas on project plans and activities.

The CLC is also developing the governance structure to help administer the Community Dividend that will arise from this project. This annual donation, equivalent to 1% to gross revenue, roughly $8,000(check this number with Stephen.) This money could be allocated to any number of different local programs or projects. The CLC will play an important role in administering the Dividend; to the community, for the community. The CLC for our Little River Harbour Project has been established and will also serve the community for the Black Pond Project.
